ECONOMIC REVIEW

Headline inflation accelerated to 10.9% YoY in Apr'26, up sharply from 7.8% in Mar'26 (and marking the first double-digit print in 21 months), driven by broad-based increases across transport, housing & utilities, food, and miscellaneous categories. On a MoM basis, CPI rose by 2.5%, primarily due to higher fuel, electricity, and perishable food prices, although the decline in wheat flour provided some offset. As a result, average inflation for 10MFY26 reached 6.2%, compared to 4.9% in the same period last year, indicating a clear re-acceleration in price pressures. On April 27, 2026, the SBP raised the policy rate by 100bps to 11.50%, citing rising external risks from the prolonged Middle East conflict and elevated global energy, freight, and insurance costs amid supply chain disruptions. Externally, Pakistan posted a current account surplus of USD 1,070mn in Mar'26 (vs USD 1,275mn last year), bringing the 9MFY26 position to a marginal deficit of USD 8mn. As of April, SBP FX reserves stood at USD 16bn (USD 21.2bn total), while the PKR appreciated slightly by 0.14% MoM to close at 278.77/USD, supported by stable reserves. The US-Iran conflict remains unresolved, with ongoing disruptions in the Strait of Hormuz pushing oil prices toward ~USD 120/bbl and elevating global energy risks, while stalled negotiations and broader regional tensions, including Israel-Lebanon ceasefire breaches, continue to undermine stability, with spillover effects on Pakistan emerging through weaker remittances, external financing pressures, and heightened security concerns. The economic outlook remains mixed, with rising inflation, high oil prices, and external vulnerabilities weighing on stability despite resilient remittances and a manageable external position. IMF support remains a key anchor, though its effectiveness will depend on timely disbursements and continued policy compliance. Going forward, macro stability hinges on monetary discipline, fiscal restraint, and effective management of external shocks.

MONEY MARKET REVIEW

With the SBP increasing the policy rate by 100bps to 11.50%, secondary market yields moved higher across the curve. Short-term yields rose, with the 3-month, 6-month, and 12-month tenors closing at 11.69%, 11.87%, and 12.04%, respectively. Longer-dated maturities also edged up, with the 5-year and 10-year yields reaching 12.85% and 13.13%, respectively, reflecting tighter monetary conditions and inflationary pressures. During the month, three T-Bill auctions were conducted. Cut-off yields increased sharply across most tenors, rising by 34 bps, 48 bps, and 60 bps for the 3-month, 6-month, and 12-month tenors, respectively. Consequently, cut-off yields closed at 11.48% for the 1-month tenor (unchanged), while the 3-month, 6-month, and 12-month tenors settled at 11.84%, 11.98%, and 12.10%, respectively. The government raised a total of PKR 3,637bn through these auctions. In the fixed-rate PIB auction, the SBP rejected all bids across tenors amid a yield mismatch, resulting in Rs906.4bn bids but zero acceptance and no funds raised. In addition, funds were mobilized through various floating and government sukuk instruments, including PKR 94.39 bn via floating rate PIBs, PKR 133.73 bn through GIS VRR, PKR 33.18 bn through GIS FRD. Following the SBP's 100bps policy rate hike to 11.50% in April, both PIB auction cut-off yields and secondary market yields moved higher, reflecting heightened inflationary pressures and elevated geopolitical risks. Going forward, monetary policy is expected to remain cautious and responsive, with the SBP maintaining a vigilant stance amid evolving macroeconomic conditions.

EQUITY MARKET REVIEW

Pakistan's equity market closed April 2026 on a positive note, with the KSE-100 Index ending at 162,994 points, up 14,250 points (9.58% MoM). The initial rally was driven by optimism over a US-Iran ceasefire, which triggered a strong early-month surge in risk assets. However, momentum faded as the ceasefire optimism weakened, with volatility returning amid softer-than-expected corporate earnings and renewed geopolitical uncertainty. During April 2026, the average traded volume surged by 91% to 929mn shares, with the average traded value improved significantly by 49% to USD 148mn. Foreign investors were net sellers of USD 592mn. Domestically, individuals led buying with USD 59mn, followed by companies USD 14.8mn, while insurance were major sellers with USD 35mn. Looking ahead, the KSE-100 Index is expected to remain sensitive to geopolitical developments, with any easing in tensions likely to support a near-term recovery. Sentiment may also strengthen on the expected approval of the USD 1.2bn IMF tranche by the Executive Board on 8 May'26, while upcoming budget-related announcements could provide an additional catalyst for the market.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The objective of the Fund is to provide long-term capital growth and income by investing in multiple asset classes such as equity, equity-related instruments, fixed-income securities, continuous funding system, derivatives, money market instruments, etc.

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

Pakistan's equity market closed April 2026 on a positive note, with the KSE-100 Index ending at 162,994 points, up 14,250 points (9.58% MoM). The initial rally was driven by optimism over a US-Iran ceasefire, which triggered a strong early-month surge in risk assets. However, momentum faded as the ceasefire optimism weakened, with volatility returning amid softer-than-expected corporate earnings and renewed geopolitical uncertainty. During April 2026, the average traded volume surged by 91% to 929mn shares, with the average traded value improved significantly by 49% to USD 148mn. Foreign investors were net sellers of USD 592mn. Domestically, individuals led buying with USD 59mn, followed by companies USD 14.8mn, while insurance were major sellers with USD 35mn. Looking ahead, the KSE-100 Index is expected to remain sensitive to geopolitical developments, with any easing in tensions likely to support a near-term recovery. Sentiment may also strengthen on the expected approval of the USD 1.2bn IMF tranche by the Executive Board on 8 May '26, while upcoming budget-related announcements could provide an additional catalyst for the market.

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

Pakistan's equity market closed April 2026 on a positive note, with the KSE-100 Index ending at 162,994 points, up 14,250 points (9.58% MoM). The initial rally was driven by optimism over a US-Iran ceasefire, which triggered a strong early-month surge in risk assets. However, momentum faded as the ceasefire optimism weakened, with volatility returning amid softer-than-expected corporate earnings and renewed geopolitical uncertainty. During April 2026, the average traded volume surged by 91% to 929mn shares, with the average traded value improved significantly by 49% to USD 148mn. Foreign investors were net sellers of USD 592mn. Domestically, individuals led buying with USD 59mn, followed by companies USD 14.8mn, while insurance were major sellers with USD 35mn. Looking ahead, the KSE-100 Index is expected to remain sensitive to geopolitical developments, with any easing in tensions likely to support a near-term recovery. Sentiment may also strengthen on the expected approval of the USD 1.2bn IMF tranche by the Executive Board on 8 May '26, while upcoming budget-related announcements could provide an additional catalyst for the market.

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

Pakistan's equity market closed April 2026 on a positive note, with the KSE-100 Index ending at 162,994 points, up 14,250 points (9.58% MoM). The initial rally was driven by optimism over a US-Iran ceasefire, which triggered a strong early-month surge in risk assets. However, momentum faded as the ceasefire optimism weakened, with volatility returning amid softer-than-expected corporate earnings and renewed geopolitical uncertainty. During April 2026, the average traded volume surged by 91% to 929mn shares, with the average traded value improved significantly by 49% to USD 148mn. Foreign investors were net sellers of USD 592mn. Domestically, individuals led buying with USD 59mn, followed by companies USD 14.8mn, while insurance were major sellers with USD 35mn. Looking ahead, the KSE-100 Index is expected to remain sensitive to geopolitical developments, with any easing in tensions likely to support a near-term recovery. Sentiment may also strengthen on the expected approval of the USD 1.2bn IMF tranche by the Executive Board on 8 May '26, while upcoming budget-related announcements could provide an additional catalyst for the market.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The objective of the Fund is to achieve long-term capital growth by investing mainly in Shariah Compliant equity securities.

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTS

Pakistan's equity market closed April 2026 on a positive note, with the KSE-100 Index ending at 162,994 points, up 14,250 points (9.58% MoM). The initial rally was driven by optimism over a US-Iran ceasefire, which triggered a strong early-month surge in risk assets. However, momentum faded as the ceasefire optimism weakened, with volatility returning amid softer-than-expected corporate earnings and renewed geopolitical uncertainty. During April 2026, the average traded volume surged by 91% to 929mn shares, with the average traded value improved significantly by 49% to USD 148mn. Foreign investors were net sellers of USD 592mn. Domestically, individuals led buying with USD 59mn, followed by companies USD 14.8mn, while insurance were major sellers with USD 35mn. Looking ahead, the KSE-100 Index is expected to remain sensitive to geopolitical developments, with any easing in tensions likely to support a near-term recovery. Sentiment may also strengthen on the expected approval of the USD 1.2bn IMF tranche by the Executive Board on 8 May '26, while upcoming budget-related announcements could provide an additional catalyst for the market.
